

Center for International Relations

&

Euro-Atlantic Association

---

cordially invites you to a seminar with

Dr. Andrew Michta

George C. Marshall European Center for Security Studies

Future of US-NATO relations with Russia

The seminar will take place on Thursday, 15th January 2009, from 17:00 to 19:00
Business Centre Club, pl. Żelaznej Bramy 10, Warszawa

The seminar will be held in English

After the discussion we invite you for a glass of wine

Please confirm your participation by Tuesday, January 13, 2009
by e-mail: info@csm.org.pl, tel.: +48 22 646 5267

Conference organized with the support of:

The Business Centre Club and The Embassy of the United States

Business Centre
Club

Andrew A. Michta is Professor of National Security Studies and Deputy Director of the Senior Executive Seminar at the George C. Marshall European Center for Security Studies in Germany. He is also the Mertie W. Buckman Distinguished Professor of International Studies at Rhodes College in Tennessee (on leave 2005-2009). He holds a Ph.D. in International Relations from the Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies in Washington, D.C. (1987).

Professor Michta is the author of several books on European security and transatlantic relations. His most recent book The Limits of Alliance: The United States, NATO and the EU in North and Central Europe was published by Rowman & Littlefield in 2006. He has contributed articles and book chapters on NATO enlargement, US national security policy, European security, post-communist transition, civil-military relations, and US security policy.

His books have been reviewed in Foreign Affairs, Osteuropa, Journal de Science Politique, Polish Review, Slavic Review, Russian Review, and Europe-Asia Studies. He is a frequent consultant to the US government. He has lectured at universities in the U.S. and Europe, as well as the Foreign Service Institute, the U.S. State Department, the U.S. Naval Academy, and the Woodrow Wilson Center. He was a Fulbright Research Scholar and a Public Policy Scholar at the Woodrow Wilson Center in Washington, D.C. (2000-01). He has received the Clarence Day Dean's Award for Outstanding Research.

Professor Michta is a member of the International Institute for Strategic Studies in London. He is a member of several working groups, including the PfP Consortium Black Sea Working Group. He serves on the Academic Advisory Committee to the East European Program at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars. He is also an associate of the Institute of European, Russian, and Eurasian Studies at the George Washington University and a Visiting Scholar at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University.